Response to Amendment

1. This action is responsive to the amendment filed on June 30, 2006.
Claims 1 and 2 have been canceled. Claims 3-6 have been newly added. Claims 3-6 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 recites the limitation "the words" in line 7. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tribbeck US 20020059333 A1.

As to claim 3, Tribbeck teaches a method for converting a textual word in a document into a linking means, comprising:

identifying at least one textual word as a key word and storing the key word in a key word file (Fig. 2, P[0053]);

associating the key word with the linking means, wherein the linking means is associated with predefined data (Fig. 5, P[0053-0054]);

comparing the words in the document with the key word in the key word file (P[0059]); and converting the textual word corresponding to the key word to the linking means (Fig. 11,14,15, P[00554,0083]).

As to claim 4, Tribbeck teaches a method as claimed in claim 3, wherein the linking means is a hyperlink (abstract).

As to claim 5, Tribbeck teaches a method as claimed in claim 3, wherein the method is performed on a computer network having a provider computer and a user computer, wherein the provider computer and user computer are in communication via the computer network, further comprising:

transferring the key word file to the user computer (Fig. 2, Fig. 18, P[0117]).

As to claim 6, Tribbeck teaches a method as claimed in claim 5, wherein comparing the words in the document with the key word file is performed on the user computer (Fig. 18, P[0059,0117]).

4. Examiner's Note: Examiner has cited particular columns and line numbers in the references as applied to the claims above for the convenience of the applicant. Although the specified citations are representative of the teachings of the art and are applied to the specific limitations within the individual claim, other passages and figures may apply as well. It is respectfully requested from the applicant in preparing responses, to fully consider the references in its entirety as potentially teaching of all or part of the claimed invention, as well as the context.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In the remarks applicant argues in substance that; A) Tribbeck does not teach "comparing the document with the key word file". B) Tribbeck does not teach converting the key world to the linking means.

In response to A) Applicant's argument is inconsistent with claim. Applicant is arguing comparing the document with the key word file. This/These limitation(s) are not found in the claims. Claimed subject matter not the specification is the measure of the invention. Disclosure contained in the specification cannot be read into the claims for the purpose of avoiding prior art. In re Sporck, 55 CCPA 743, 386 F .2d 924, 155 USPQ 687 (1986); In re Self, 213 USPQ 1,5 (CCPA 1982); In re Priest, 199 USPQ 11, 15 (CCPA 1978).

In response to B) Applicant's argument is inconsistent with claim. Applicant is arguing converting the key word to the linking means. This/These limitation(s) are not found in the claims. Claimed subject matter not the specification is the measure of the invention. Disclosure contained in the specification cannot be read into the claims for the purpose of avoiding prior art. In re Sporck, 55 CCPA 743, 386 F .2d 924, 155 USPQ 687 (1986); In re Self, 213 USPQ 1,5 (CCPA 1982); In re Priest, 199 USPQ 11, 15 (CCPA 1978).

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
